

VISITING BEAR--The black bear shown above at a birdfeeder has been visiting Eunice Weaver's yard on Sunset Park Lane off Danish Landing since the end of May. "He doesn't knock the bird feeder down -- he just eats from it," said Eunice. She found tracks from a visit Thursday night, August 20, and she heard him recently at the end of Danish Landing in a raspberry patch. "I don't walk in the woods any more," Eunice said.

VISION 2000 aims to solve school overcrowding problems

A comprehensive plan called VISION 2000 aims to solve school overcrowding problems here while providing the technology students will need for the year 2000.

A Sept. 26 bond issue calls for construction of a new high school along with renovation of the four existing buildings. School board president Chris Dunckley said the project will solve overcrowding problems for at least 20 years in the Crawford AuSable School District (C.A.S.D.). The C.A.S.D. is located mainly within Crawford County, which had one of the state's fastest growth rates with a 29.5% population increase during the 1980s.

Superintendent Kent Reynolds said the technology installed in every building would prepare students for the 21st century. Computer technology will provide students with the job skills, training, and experience necessary for employment in the coming century. Additionally, an integrated communications systems will allow students access to computer software, videos, and CD ROM technology from every classroom in the district.

The community could also benefit from proposed new sports, music, and other facilities at the new high school. The combined facilities of the new high school and current high school could allow Grayling to host more basketball, football, baseball, track, wrestling, volleyball, and other school sport tournaments as well as band festivals and other school activities. Grayling's central location in the state could draw a lot of events to the area, said Dunckley.

"This is not just a bond issue," he said. "The buildings are not just for the kids. The community will also have better access to the facilities."

OVERCROWDING

For the 1992-93 school year, two classes of fifth graders are being sent to Grayling High School, several classes of Grayling Elementary students are being bussed to Frederic Elementary, and every room in both elementary schools, including storage rooms, is being used for instruction.

Enrollment projections show more than 400 more students will be added to our school by the year 2000.

"The voters have said they do not want a piecemeal project," said Dunckley. "They want a project that takes care of all the needs so the board will not have to come back to voters."

"This is the time to do it. We are getting more for our money than at any time in the last twenty years due to current interest rates and construction bids. The solution to the district facility problems are not going to get any cheaper," he said.

COST OF VISION 2000

The Sept. 26th ballot asks voters to approve a $25 million construction proposal and a millage of 2.2 mills to operate the extra building. Both proposals must pass for construction to start. The school board said it will not build and improve facilities without funds to operate them.

A family with a $44,000 home assessed at $22,000 (the average in Crawford County) will pay an additional $72.60 for 1992 and 1993. Beginning in 1994, when the new

Riley seeks recount in township election

By Lori Swarthout

Chairman of the county board of commissioners Lee Riley has filed a petition for recount of the Beaver Creek Township Supervisor primary.

Riley has based his request for a recount on the possibility there may have been an error in the original count. In a brief interview, Riley stated that he did not believe the recount would affect the outcome of the election, in which Irene Schultes narrowly defeated Riley 83 to 79 and won the republican slot for township supervisor in November's general election.

Riley's name was on the Beaver Creek ballot twice, once for precinct delegate and once for township supervisor. Riley hopes to learn if Beaver Creek voters found this confusing and if Schultes has as much strength as indicated in the primary.

According to County Clerk Elizabeth Wieland, the township supervisor race cannot be recounted until the state board of canvassers have recounted any disputed elections at the state level. She expects the local recount will take place sometime after Labor Day.

911 system grows into life-saver

By Lori Swarthout

It took about ten years for the 911 system to grow from the first seed planted here in 1982 to the separate county department handling 2,423 calls so far this year.

Larry Akers, Central Dispatch Director, recently spoke of how far emergency communications have come in this county, and of things that still need to be done.

Akers explained how the present, enhanced 911 system, was actually being planned for as early as 1982, with the creation of Crawford Emergency Central Dispatch, then under day-to-day control of the Sheriff's department.

When county commissioners adopted the uniform house numbering county-wide ordinance in 1986, the way was paved for a future 911 system. In December of 1987 an emergency services council began developing plans for 911, which received its first call October 25, 1991.

HOW 911 WORKS

All 911 calls are immediately picked up on one of three lines by a trained dispatcher who activates a computer terminal merely by answering the call.

The computer terminal activated by the call displays vital information including name, address, number of residents, and other critical information supplied by the resident. 911 users may include such things as chronic illnesses or handicaps of any residents, location of children's bedrooms, even pets can be noted at the request of the resident. Akers stressed that this information is totally confidential and can only be accessed when a phone number is provided or used in contacting 911.

Akers also stressed that the information on the screen is only a back-up. In order to get the most effective emergency service, a 911 user should give a brief statement of the emergency, at which time the dispatcher will begin asking vital questions and relaying the information to the appropriate emergency personnel, which is already on its way, activated by computer code as soon as the dispatcher gets that first brief statement.

If the 911 lines are busy, the call is forwarded to 4911, central dispatch's non-emergency number, and if by chance, that number is also unanswered, the 911 call is relayed to Roscommon County 911. According to Akers, it is not possible for a 911 call to go unanswered for longer than a minute or two.

911 AND YOUR SAFETY

Akers offered a few tips for Crawford County residents wanting to maximize the benefits of 911. First, Akers suggests residents call 348-4911 to update information stored in the 911 computer system. If you move and retain the same phone number, or someone moves into or out of your residence, 911 needs to know in order to provide the most effective service possible. The phone company updates

Blood donors needed for Red Cross drive

The Crawford County Chapter, American Red Cross will have a Blood Drive Wednesday, September 2, from noon to 5:45 p.m., at the American Legion, Grayling.

The Blood Drive is scheduled just before the Labor Day weekend when blood will be most needed in the 37 hospitals within the 27-county area in the Wolverine Region.

Donors must be at least 17 years old, weigh at least 110 pounds, and be in good health.

The five first time donors at the July 8 Blood Drive were: Priscilla Siegler, Jennifer Smith, Patricia Eilers, Cora Jones and Thomas Hershberger.

Antique cars roll into town, turn back memories

Downtown Grayling looked 75 years younger last Thursday as more than 80 cars made in 1914 or earlier parked along the streets as part of the Antique Auto Club of America's Reliability Tour.

The cars, with names such as Imperial, Fuller, Cadillac, Ford, Simplex, Buick, Chevrolet, Stoddard-Dayton, Overland, Oakland, and Chalmers, drew a crowd wherever they went.

The Reliability Tour was based in Houghton Lake and for five days the car owners drove their antique machines about 100 miles a day to visit Grayling, Hartwick Pines, and other area places.

Bud and Lorene Jones, from Belding, gave a hint about the name of the Reliability Tour. They bought their Oakland car in 1959 when it already had been driven for more than 45 years. Since then, they've driven it more than 100,000 miles.

"It's never been overhauled," said Lorene. "The only big thing we've done to it was put new rings in it last year. It still has the original leather on the doors."

The Oakland also has the original crank starter along with an electric starter Bud added and they drive it about 35 miles an hour on the tour.

Fritz Thurston, an owner of a 1914 Imperial manufactured in Jackson, Michigan, said its a driving car, not one for shows.

"It has an awful lot of miles on it," he said. "It's gone through five sets of tires."

Thurston, a winter resident of Florida and summer resident in Rapid City, Michigan, cruises his vehicle about 40-45 miles an hour on the open road.

"The cars in the Reliability Tour go between 25 and 50 and most of them have a cruising speed when everything seems to feel just right."

Car owners from about 31 states participated in the Reliability Tour with Ohio and Michigan having the most owners in this year's tour.

GOING FOR A CRUISE--The owners of this Fuller antique car pull the top down as they prepare to resume the Antique Automobile Club of America Reliability Tour which brought 81 cars into Grayling last week.

MEMORY LANE--Eighty-one cars built in 1914 or earlier visited Grayling last Thursday, turning a walk down the sidewalk into a stroll down memory lane.

building opens and the operational millage starts, the increase will be $121. The chart on this page shows two other costs to help you estimate your tax increase.

Dunckley said most senior citizens and low income families in the county qualify for a property tax rebate and many of them will not have to pay any extra taxes if the proposals pass. The school district office has more information on the property tax rebate or your tax preparer should be able to answer specific questions.

BUILDING PROPOSALS

* A new high school (grades 9-12) is built northwest of existing high school on school property with these features:

1. The compact, energy-efficient, two-story building can house 800-900 students.

2. A large gymnasium offers three playing areas for increased student and community use.

3. Access to computers is increased through computer labs and classrooms.

4. A football field with a track and ball fields are added.

5. Outdoor facilities and kitchen facilities are shared between the buildings.

* Frederic Elementary becomes a K-4th grade school.

1. The old section is turned into a media center that could become a combined township/school facility.

2. The former library becomes office space for staff, district, and I.S.D. specialists.

3. Larger classrooms are formed by moving walls.

4. A second locker room — to provide men's and women's facilities for community use — and a storage room are added.

5. A paved parking lot is installed.

6. Playground is renovated — including a hard-surface play area, ball fields and reorganizing of existing equipment.

* Grayling Elementary becomes K-2nd grade school.

1. The front of the building changes to face Plum Street for improved traffic flow and increased safety.

2. New parking areas are installed.

3. Larger classrooms are formed by moving walls.

4. The center section — presently a library and eight classrooms — becomes a large media center with computers, art and music classrooms, office, conference, and storage space for staff members and itinerant personnel, and a parents/visitors lounge.

5. A new activity and physical education center is added for student and community use.

* Grayling Middle School becomes a 3rd-5th grade school.

1. The majority of renovation goes to site changes. The district will attempt to purchase private property to develop a ball field and playground area.

2. Only minor renovations (to accommodate smaller children) is needed for the interior, as the building was recently renovated.

3. Group toilet facilities are added to the ground floor.

* Grayling High School becomes a middle school (grades 6-8).

1. A new, identifiable entrance is created.

2. The media center is redesigned to emphasize technology.

3. A commons area/cafe/tertia is built.

4. Two full size computer labs are created for teaching and for student use.

5. The obsolete heating and ventilating systems are replaced.

46th Circuit Court

Appearing before the Honorable Alton T. Davis August 17:

Gregory Matthew Kenwell, age 35 of Mainville, Ohio, appeared in Circuit Court for the purpose of arraignment on the charge of Operating-Under The Influence Causing Death. record. Schweitzer was arrested by the Crawford County Sheriff's Department following an investigation.

Ronald David Austin, age 17 of Roscommon, was arraigned on the charge of Criminal Sexual Conduct 1st Degree. Austin plead guilty to an added Count II: Criminal Sexual Conduct 3rd Degree, which carries a maximum penalty of 15 years. In exchange for his plea the charge of CSC 1st will be dismissed.

addresses and phone numbers every couple of days, but you can speed up this process by calling ahead. You can save the lives of your children by providing information to 911 concerning the location of their bedrooms.

Akers urged parents to teach young children to dial 911 responsibly. Children as young as three have saved lives by being taught how to use the system properly. Akers told of one mother, who after instructing the youngster on what to do, had the child dial 911. Unfortunately, mom forgot to tell the toddler that an operator would answer the phone. When the child reached the dispatcher, she was so startled she screamed and dropped the phone. Mom stayed on the line and explained the situation. No problem. Central dispatch knows at least one young child can use the phone whenever scared, frightened, or lost, Akers said.

Finally, access to the most current information is of no use if the building in question can't be located. Akers stressed that it has been the law in Crawford County, since 1986, that all houses must have their numbers displayed and visible from the street. The numbers must be at least three inches in height and in arabic script. As fast as the new 911 can provide information to emergency personnel, if the house in question isn't clearly marked, it could cost precious minutes and mean the difference between life and death.

Local authorities rescue lost cow

By Lori Swarthout

Crawford County deputies responded to a call of a cow loose on I-75 southbound near mile marker 251 at approximately 10:50 a.m. Friday, August 28.

The officer on duty and other assisting motorists were able to herd the cow up the Four Mile Road exit.

They were finally able to corner the cow into a trailer after several attempts.

The cow, apparently unaware of the no hitchhiking law regarding highways, decided to seek greener fields when the back gate of her trailer became loose. Officers decided not to ticket the cow as it was her first offense.

Neither the cow nor her owner, William Axford of Gaylord were injured in the incident, which occurred while Axford was transporting several head of cattle down state.

Be considerate of area; don't dump trash on road

In the last couple of months we have seen more and more road trash on our roadways. Our area is one of the most beautiful in the country and when someone dumps their trash on our roads, it's like dumping it in our front yards.

Be considerate, take your trash with you.

It's costly to host debate

MICHIGAN APPARENTLY will be host to the first presidential debate of the 1992 campaign. More specifically, Michigan State University is expected to be the site of the verbal battle when President George Bush and Democratic Nominee Bill Clinton debate on Sept. 22.

Formally Republicans must still grant approval, which is expected to be pro forma; Democrats already have said okay.

One of the sticking points is that somehow the host site must come up with an estimated $400,000 to help defray costs of the debate. Most if not all of the sum is expected to come from private sources, such as donations.

That seems like a lot of cost to get two candidates together for a debate, but apparently a dollar here and a dollar there adds up.

The debate is expected to attract between 1,500 and 2,000 assorted politicians, media representatives and other camp followers.

Debate planners seem to favor campus sites for these shows. The audience is expected to include at least a limited number of students — perhaps up to 1,000 or so.

FOR ALL THE TROUBLE, it probably doesn't make a lot of difference to either Michigan or the East Lansing community where the debate is held. It's not like it's a community celebration, where Mr. Bush and Mr. Clinton will rub elbows with all the citizens of the area. Attendance at the debate will be limited. Most of us will watch on TV, and reception is no better from East Lansing, than, say, Pasadena.

There probably will be some economic fallout as the community gets ready for the debate; it may take up to a couple of weeks or so on the scene for media technicians, political advisors, and others to get ready for the big affair. That will translate into dollars for housing, meals, on-the-spot supplies, and other details.

Hosting a presidential debate may be considered a feather in the hat of Michigan, MSU, and the area. But is it worth $400,000?

Reminds me of the old story about the guy who was facing a tar-and-feather party before being run out of town.

If it weren't for the honor of the thing, he observed, he'd really rather not.

VISIT UNUSUAL—Historians have gone into the archives to find the last time a sitting president then in office visited MSU.

The answer apparently is 1907, when President Theodore Roosevelt was on the campus to help celebrate the 50th anniversary of the dedication of Michigan State as an institution of higher learning.

Other presidents have visited the campus, but apparently either before or after they served as president.

As a young reporter, I remember covering a visit by Harry S. Truman to East Lansing to deliver a commencement address at MSU, if memory serves, in the mid-1950s.

I also recall covering a rally for John F. Kennedy on the MSU campus when he was campaigning for the job back in 1960.

There may have been others since 1907, too.

So Mr. Bush's trip to East Lansing will be the first in a long, long time by a president then in office.

Even so, is it worth $400,000?

CHEERS FOR TRAMMEL—Maybe the world of professional athletics is not completely haywire after all.

Alan Trammel, who has been a star shortstop for the Detroit Tigers for a dozen years or so, has been out with injuries much of this year. Stepping into the breach has been Travis Fryman, who has performed well enough to be selected to the league's all star team. Mr. Fryman has done an excellent job, and seems to have a fine future ahead of him.

So what happens to Mr. Trammel, once he's well enough to play regularly?

"I understand what's happened," Mr. Trammel is quoted in The Detroit Free Press.

"Travis Fryman is the man now, and I accept that. He's 23, and I'll be 35 next year. I'm willing to play wherever they want me to play."

What a refreshing attitude, especially compared to the self-centered antics of so many millionaire players about whom we read.

Here's a vote for Alan Trammel for anything he wants to do.

Guthrie Lake resident asks Guard to practice good neighbor policy

It is self-evident that Mr. Kazup's recent letter to the Avalanche was intended to be constructive regarding advice directed to folks residing around Guthrie Lake and in his defense of Range 40.

I certainly agree with Mr. Kazup's assertion that residents of the Guthrie Lake area are aggravated by activities associated with Range 40.

However, I must take exception to several remarks or "facts" presented in Mr. Kazup's letter.

1. My appearance on TV was related to fires on Range 40 not noise. While dangerous burning took place over the period June 13-17, we had particular fear on June 15. This was a date determined by the DNR to be a "Very High" fire risk. Couple this with winds out of the east as high as 13.8 MPH and you'll understand that there was clear and present danger to people and homes located on the east side of Guthrie Lake. The Guard continued to disregard DNR fire warnings which would seem to indicate little or no concern for the safety of neighbors. The area could easily have been a second Luzerne.

2. I am neither retired Air Force nor chairperson of any association at Guthrie Lake.

3. In 1972, the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) required a disclosure to buyers of property near Guthrie Lake regarding Guard training. The developer, in conjunction with Guard representatives, agreed to the following statement: "During portions of the year including parts of the day during the summer jet aircraft will be flying overhead and artillery making a sound similar to thunder can be heard."

This is a far cry from the reality of recent years. We truly have a "home on the range!"

In my judgement, Guthrie Lake folks are not unreasonable in their insistence that the Guard follow the same fire safety guidelines imposed on citizens. We implore the Guard to practice a good neighbor policy regarding all aspects of training.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

There is something very wrong in the way man's sleeping pattern is programmed, somehow things just seem backwards. When you are young and have to get up and go to work, that bed really feels good in the morning and you would almost kill for another hour of sleep. Then after you are old and retired and have no reason to get out of bed in the morning, you have to fight to stay in bed until a reasonable hour to get up. I, at times, find myself getting up at two or three o'clock in the morning just not being able to stay in bed any longer. When I remember the old days and how good a little more sleep would have felt on those mornings when I had to get up, it just don't seem right that now when I could sleep in, to be out there shaking the trees to wake up the birds.

Anytime after six o'clock I head over to Goodale's Bakery to enjoy my morning coffee and share the latest news with the early morning crowd there. I put up the flag and settle in at my favorite table to greet those poor souls who stumble in half asleep in hopes that a cup or two of that good Goodale coffee will jar them awake to face their busy day. The old timers are the ones who come in all full of vim and vigor, glad the long night is over. The man who could figure out a way to change things around would win the undying gratitude of both the young and old. This weekend, the 15th and 16th of August, I took some of my junk up to the Gaylord Gun Show. It was good to see some of the folks, who I rarely see elsewhere, and to do a little dealing. Even if you don't sell anything it is enjoyable to talk to friends and look over their stock in trade. It seems I always find a gun that I just can't live without and wind up with a new toy or two to play with. But it always seems that the next day I realize that the new gun I have now I should have had twenty years ago when there was more game to hunt and my old legs were able to walk a lot farther in search of it. So that gun I just had to have yesterday goes up for sale today. I wonder if the old man is ever going to realize that he is old and those days when he could get out to really hunt are over. Still I know I will soon be buying my hunting licenses and head for the woods if only to sit under a tree and enjoy the quiet of the woods.

I think it is about time for the Murphys to crank up the old motor home and take off for parts unknown for awhile. Maybe we will have a real nice Indian summer to enjoy and to provide good memories with which to face the long cold winter. I'll take the old typewriter along in case I find some material for a column along the way.

Notes From The Woods

By Nancy Lemmen

Many people think the American Civil Liberties Union represents only radical Commies.

Not true, said the Howard Simon, Michigan's executive director. The A.C.L.U. also represents Nazis, Ku Klux Klan members, homosexuals, artists, writers, women and anyone who else whose Constitutional rights are being trampled upon.

Simon, who has held his A.C.L.U. position for 18 years, was the guest of Circuit Court Judge Alton T. Davis at a Grayling Rotary Club meeting recently.

It's true that the A.C.L.U. finds itself embroiled in controversial matters, said Simon in his opening remarks. The reason is that it is always vigilant and aggressive in the fight to protect individual liberties.

Despite its unarguably noble purpose, the A.C.L.U. remains the group many of us love to hate. George Bush used the fact of Michael Dukakis' "card-carrying" membership as a weakness to exploit in the 1988 presidential campaign.

After all, isn't the A.C.L.U. just a radical fringe group—or the liberal arm of the Democratic party—that defends all those repugnant minority types that don't deserve any rights anyway?

No, it's not.

The organization represents civilian control over the government. Just as the Bill of Rights cuts across party lines, so does the A.C.L.U.

RECENT BATTLES

Some examples of recent A.C.L.U. battles to preserve individuals' and groups' Constitutional rights:

• They supported a Michigan woman who was warned that her Bush/Quayle yard signs were in violation of her city's sign ban. The penalty for her refusal would be $500 or 30 days in jail. Not only was their defense successful, but they also worked with the city to revise its sign ordinance.

• They went to bat for Operation Rescue, an anti-abortion group that was staging weekly peaceful pickets in front of the Planned Parenthood clinic in Ann Arbor. Planned Parenthood had the city convert the cul-de-sac on which its office was located to private property, so the picketers could be excluded. The A.C.L.U. argued successfully in Detroit Federal District Court that the conversion was improper.

• They worked on behalf of a fundamental church in Newaygo when the city manager ordered all religious signs on the lawns of that church's parishioners to be removed. Again, the signs allowed to remain; again, the A.C.L.U. worked with the city to revise its sign ordinance.

• On behalf of three Republicans and three Democrats in the state legislature, they fought former Gov. James Blanchard's campaign to have random state police road blocks stop all motorists on given highways in an attempt to catch drunken drivers. The battle continues: after winning in the Court of Appeals, they lost at the Supreme Court level. Back in the Michigan Court of Appeals two months ago, they won again. The case is now pending in the Michigan Supreme Court.

• They presented briefs in support of Oliver North in Federal Court on the grounds that he was convicted unfairly after testimony he gave to Congress was used against him in court.

DEFENDER OF THE CONSTITUTION

It's been very fashionable lately to talk about "the principles our country was founded upon," "what America stands for," "what makes the U.S.A. great." Some notions are definitely subjective. Others are politically expedient. Still others serve as excuses to attack people who are different.

But the A.C.L.U. cuts through all the self-serving rhetoric and focuses on Constitutional principles that the nation, in fact, is based upon: such as 1) that fundamental rights are due all American citizens and 2) that there are limits to the power of the majority.

A lot of us want rights given only to those people who are like us.

A lot of us still think the concept "majority rules" is always appropriate. A lot of us don't want to hear his message.

But the truth is this:

An individual with an unpopular message still deserves to speak.

A group cannot be prohibited from practicing its religion or its politics.

Women . . . and people of color . . . and gays . . . and Buddhists . . . and every single human being in this country must be afforded equal rights. That's what Thomas Jefferson meant when he wrote in The Declaration of Independence that "... all men are created equal . . ."

He didn't mean, of course, that we were all born with identical abilities and potentials. He meant that all people deserve equal treatment under the law.

Sadly, we Americans—in our legislatures and in our legal systems and in our individual treatment of others—often forget this tenet.

But for the past 72 years, the A.C.L.U.—in the face of continuous criticism from the not-so-silent majority—has not forgotten about the individual freedoms that were intended for ALL Americans.

Freedom of speech. Freedom of the press. Freedom of religion. Right of trial by jury. Right to equal treatment under the law. Right to due process. To name a few.

A.C.L.U.'s BEGINNINGS

The A.C.L.U. was founded in 1920, when America's civil liberties were in "very bad shape," said Simon. It was an era during which free speech was allowed only if it was approved by the majority. Equality for women was not even considered. They had only just been given the right to vote. Blacks had no legal rights.

Twenty-two years later, the A.C.L.U. was the only group to protest the racism and war hysteria that sent Japanese Americans into internment camps, he said.

"We were called subversive and unpatriotic. We lost in the United States Supreme Court. But 40 years later, President Ronald Reagan signed a bill the A.C.L.U. got passed to compensate the survivors for violations of their Constitutional rights."

"We are often criticized, challenged, called subversive, Communist. Yet many of the rights (Americans) now enjoy come from cases the A.C.L.U. brought to court."

"Over the years, we have become a part of the government. A bill is passed by Congress, approved by the President, challenged by the A.C.L.U. and upheld or struck down by the Supreme Court."

"The majority has gone too far by violating the rights of the individual and minority groups," said Simon. "Without a watchdog protecting individual and minority rights, tyranny of the majority would be (and has been) a reality."

"Everybody ought to be an A.C.L.U. member," he continued. "Our country needs a non-political, non-partisan, principled organization to be a watchdog, to challenge government."

"The United States has more freedom than any country on the face of the Earth, but every day we must defend the Bill of Rights."

"You may not agree with everything the A.C.L.U. does. We (the directors) don't agree with everything. We take a vote of the directors following discussion before taking on a case."

"Democracy is the best system invented, but it's terribly inefficient," concluded Simon. "It needs the support of everyone, especially people like Rotarians. The government can break the law. If there are no groups like the A.C.L.U., it could slip into tyranny. It must be kept in check."

CENTURIES OF INTOLERANCE

Sometimes, in the three and a half centuries since the first settlers arrived on the shores of the New World—many to escape religious persecution—and in the two hundred years since we violently cut our ties with England—over governmental persecution—we forget what this country is all about.

We forget that the country's founders came here to escape the tyranny of government, the tyranny of the majority.

And throughout the centuries, we—whose forbearers themselves escaped tyranny—have turned around to tyrannize others.

Pick your victims. They have been plentiful. Irish. Italians. Chinese. Catholics. Jewish. Blacks. Women. Germans. Communists. Japanese. Native Americans. Gays. Single moms. The list goes on.

In a season when many local, state and national politicians are voicing vacuous political rhetoric filled with jingoistic slogans that thinly disguise their intolerance of those who are different, it was nice to listen to a non-political voice of reason and justice on the day after the primaries were held.

It is often difficult to keep faith in this country in the face of politics and politicians. But it gives me some hope when I hear a person such as Howard Simon speak and am reminded that the A.C.L.U. still believes in the Constitution and goes to bat for it.

VISION 2000 Q & A

This fall the Crawford AuSable School District Board of Education along with members of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce, parents and other concerned individuals within the Crawford AuSable School District will be asking voters to approve VISION 2000.

In the weeks ahead, this column can provide answers to public questions regarding VISION 2000.
Q: "...Beaver Creek Township ... is where I live and have always voted. ... Last year on school election day ... the roads were scary ... someone could have ... been hurt ... especially senior ... residents ... I would like the right to vote in the school election where I have always voted ... What can we do to bring this about? -Frank Dunham (excerpted from Avalanche 8/20/92).

A: Crawford AuSable School officials are concerned about the safety of all voters within the district and would like to advise anyone 60 years of age or older that by law you are entitled to vote by Absentee Ballot. The Absentee Ballots for the Vision 2000 election will be available at the District School "White House" on Michigan Ave. across from GSB beginning September 5.

There are two separate school districts within Crawford County. Each district holds its own school elections which are totally separate from governmental elections. The Crawford AuSable School District tries to match convenience with cost and maintain a proper balance, therefore fewer precincts and personnel are maintained for School Elections than by the County for their elections.

For further information please contact the District Election Official, Paul Lerg at 348-7641.

Next week's question: "How much will the project cost with all interest added?"

You must register by Thursday, August 27, to be eligible to vote in the September VISION 2000 election.

If you have a question regarding VISION 2000 you would like answered in this column, call the Avalanche, 348-6811, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., or write to the Avalanche at P.O. Box 490, Grayling, or drop a note through the letter slot in the front door.

Local Motion seeks teams who can last four hours

Don't be left home alone! The Crawford County Chapter of the American Cancer Society is sponsoring the third annual Local Motion at Hanson Hills on Saturday, September 19, from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. Registration begins at 8 a.m. There will be lots of fun for all ages.

The teams will consist of four to ten members, who will walk, on marked trails, run or exercise in a relay fashion. The team members are asked to collect sponsors. The sponsors are asked to donate a dollar amount rather than pledge for miles covered. The more sponsors the more money for your team to donate.

There will also be other fun things to do while team members take turns being in motion. There will be snacks, games, puzzles and a variety of other activities. There will also be hourly drawings for prizes in different categories. Everyone who completes four hours of Local Motion is invited to a free lunch donated by the Grayling Restaurant.

We are asking the area businesses to challenge each other to assemble a team and compete for the most sponsors collected. Remember you will be helping the fight against cancer which has touched every person's life in some way.

For more information or sign up sheets please contact Shelley Kammer (348-4468) or Vickie Green (348-5407).

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

The Goal

Why do some folks seem to feel
That life must be filled with strain and pain
With all their hurry, hurry, worry, worry
What do they really gain

They never have time to relax awhile
They even take their meals on the run
The idea never enters their minds
That life can also be fun

They rush around every day
More and more dollars are their goal
Never stopping to meditate
On what's happening to their soul

They have no time for others
They only worry about old number one
Do they plan on taking their money with them
When their days here on Earth are done

Do they think they can buy their place in heaven
Like a mansion on some lake
Do they think just a few more dollars
Is all that it's going to take

But on that great judgment morning
When we gather before the great white throne
Will his pocket book be empty
Will he stand there naked and alone

For he had no time for others here on Earth
As he chased a few more dollars as a goal
Will the dear Lord find him lacking
Due to the poverty of his soul?

SADIE NEEDS A HOME--Sadie is one of several young dogs available for adoption at the Animal Shelter of Crawford County. She is a springer/cocker spaniel mix, probably six months old, and partially housebroken.

With winter approaching, Sadie and her friends are desperate for homes, because the shelter has too many animals and too limited space. Call 348-4117 or visit at 508 1/2 Huron Street if you would like to adopt a pet.

Pet Care Tip

Make sure that license and identification tags are securely attached to your dog's collar. In case your pet runs away, he can be easily identified and returned to your home.

A Look At Our Past from the pages of the Avalanche

23 years ago August 28, 1969

Miss Grayling 1970, Patricia Ann Christian has brought home a new title to Grayling. On Wednesday evening at Atlanta, home of the Montmorency County 4-H Fair, while competing in a field of nine contestants, Patricia was chosen "Queen of the Pines." The selection was based on general appearance, personality, interviews, and talent presentation.

Attending the contest from Grayling were; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Christian, Paul Christian, Linda Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Buron, Mrs. William Kraus, and Mrs. Earl Longworth. Just goes to show, the Avalanche is read thoroughly by all those fine people who purchase it for a thin dime.

The Avalanche had been on the streets for but a couple of hours, and believe us, we heard about it. The date line on the front page carried August 21, 1968.

No apologies, guess it was just one of those days we wished we were a year younger.

Mrs. Fred Neiderer, Jr. and children, Phil, David and Lynnette and Mary Ruth Lovely spent Monday in Houghton Lake.

Mrs. Clyde Weiss and children left Saturday for Grand Lake near Alpena to spend a week's vacation at their cabin. Clyde will join them for the Labor Day weekend and all return home together.

Mr. and Mrs. Schyler Gibson received a phone call from their daughter, Mrs. Michael Lauman (Pam) in Gulfport, Miss., that they are all right following the hurricane.

Capt. David B. Hanson and Capt. Michael P. McNamara have been at Aberdeen, Maryland, for Officer's Career Training for the past few weeks. They will return home this weekend.

The 1969 summer tennis program, under the direction of LeRoy Christian, ended on August 9th. Twenty-five students took private lessons ranging from 5th grade to college level. Playoffs were held and the winners were: Lynn Akers, intermediate girls; Waid Baker, intermediate boys; Mary Ruth Lovely, high school girls; Linda Christian, college girls; Tom Koernke, college boys; Paul Christian, junior boys; and Kathy Kesteloot, junior girls.

An article entitled, "Michigan's Swift AuSable River," by Gil Benedict, publicity writer for the EMTA was printed in the August-September issue of the Highway Traveler, a magazine published by the Greyhound Corporation having a circulation of 365,000 copies.

Jack Bindschatel, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bindschatel of Frederic, lost his right hand when a 37 millimeter cannon shell which has been a 12-year keepsake around the house exploded Saturday morning.

Roy McEvers is now sole owner and operator of the Buick Sales and Service garage here after buying out the interest of his former partner, Melvin Marshall. The two men purchased the agency and general repair garage from former owner, Jess Schoonover on Oct. 1, 1944.

Situated at Stephan's Bridge, down river from Grayling, the new AuSable River Inn will open its doors Saturday. Vern Perry, the owner of the new establishment is sure that patrons of the Inn will fall in love with the peaceful and natural surroundings formed by the river and quiet fields and woods. The Inn is constructed of logs and the large windows look out over the swift-flowing river. Canoe parties are expected to find the new Inn a real convenience.

An early Sunday morning fire caused about $500 destruction at the Alva Stephan Clothes Pin Factory on the South Side, the owner estimated. The greatest loss was an electric motor and wiring which is proving very difficult to replace.

Mrs. Leatha Leng and Miss Beatrice Newberry were in Traverse City one day this last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Papendick of Ashley, with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick spent from Thursday till Sunday at Copper Harbor in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robertson and family left for Presque Isle, Ma., Friday to spend two weeks with her mother, Mrs. A. Kirkpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nash Miller and son, Charles Jr., left the first of the week after spending some time at their cabin "Nash Camp" down river.

Arthur Feldhauser has begun the remodeling work at the Lovells school house which has been leased to ladies for club meetings, also for church and Sunday School work.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Mundt are spending a week in Saginaw and going on to Chicago for the Moose Convention.

Dale Burns is enjoying a two weeks' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Burns before going overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Freeman of Gagetown, are expected to leave for home today after spending two weeks with their daughter and family, the Willard Cornells.

Mrs. Leo Lovely and children are spending the week in Midland visiting Mr. Lovely.

Sherman Riley, formerly of Vassar, is a new employee at the Avalanche. He with Mrs. Riley and little daughter, LaVonne, occupy the Kennedy apartment on Peninsular Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill and daughter, Ravelle, are spending the week as the guests of the Harold Jarmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ryan of Lansing, and Mrs. Lawrence Moyer of Chicago spent the week here recently with Mr. and Mrs. George Schaible at the Reservation. The ladies are sisters of Mrs. Schaible.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jacobs of New Lothrop, were Sunday callers of the Elmer Birdsalls.

The Oscar Goss family spent the weekend in Bay City as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Goss. While there they attended the Goss reunion which was held at the Carroll Park. There were around 130 folks present at the potluck. Also present from Grayling were the James and Clayton McDonnell families.

Miss Emily Geigling spent last week in Saginaw as the guest of Miss Beverly Elliot. Her brother, Roger, and a friend drove down on Saturday to get her and attended an exhibition game of the Detroit Lions. Mr. and Mrs. Emil Geigling spent Monday in Cadillac.

Animal Wrongs?

Evolutionary environmentalists seem to worship lower forms of life above divine and human life. Their hypocrisy is exposed by contrasting their apathy toward aborted and abused human babies, with their passionate defense of plant and animal life. Our humanistic society punishes destruction of an eagle egg as an evil human crime, yet it defends the daily killing of unborn human life as a virtuous human right.

Do animals have "rights" which should keep humans from wearing leather or fur? "Unto Adam and to his wife did the LORD God make coats of skins, and clothed them." (GEN 3:21) God made the first human clothing using leather and fur to replace the fig leaf garments of human choice.

Are vegetarians more scriptural and righteous for sparing animal life? "And the fear of you and the dread of you shall be upon every beast of the earth, and upon every fowl of the air, upon all that moveth [upon] the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea; into your hand are they delivered. Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things." (GEN 9:2,3)

Blood is forbidden for food in both the Old and New Testaments. But flesh with the life thereof, [which is] the blood thereof, shall ye not eat." (GEN 9:4) This admonition is repeated to the churches in Acts 15:28,29.

The reason blood is forbidden for food is clear from Leviticus 17:11,12: "For the life of the flesh [is] in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar to make an atonement for your souls: for it [is] the blood [that] maketh an atonement for the soul. Therefore I said unto the children of Israel, No soul of you shall eat blood, neither shall any stranger that sojourneth among you eat blood."

"And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission." (HEB 9:22)

The entire book of Leviticus which gave instruction for animal sacrifices for human sins was fulfilled by Jesus Christ on the cross of Calvary. "By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once [for all]. And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins: But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God." (HEB 10:9-12)

The blood of life reminds all Christians of the sacred blood of Jesus Christ. It also reminds us to be good stewards of God's creatures. "A righteous [man] regardeth the life of his beast: but the tender mercies of the wicked [are] cruel." (PRO 12:10)

Mercy Memo

By Mary Jo Conway Community Relations Manager

My friend is dying and I don't know what to do. Except pray. Only six weeks ago she was a healthy, vibrant dedicated nurse caring for patients in their homes. Then came two family tragedies and not too long afterwards, flu-like symptoms. She wore herself out. She developed pneumonia, went into septic shock, and is lying in a hospital bed, comatose, waiting to die. And there's nothing I can do.

Except relate a story that may help others who find themselves grieving over a loved one deemed too young to die. We all tend to think of ourselves as immortal. . . dying is for the aged, right? Maybe so in a perfect world. In the not-so-perfect world there are accidents, illnesses, tragedies that can leave us living, but at the same time, not.

It's those times when important medical decisions need to be made with our own wishes in mind. Today in Michigan we have a document called the Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care, your advance directive. This document gives you the legal power to make your wishes known, in advance, in case you can't speak for yourself.

We all need to think about how we would want to be treated. If you've made out a durable power of attorney for health care, you've also made sure that your family and friends know what you would want. They will be able to follow your wishes. They won't be put in the awkward position of making medical treatment decisions for you. Without your advance directives document, treatment decisions for your doctor and family members can be painfully difficult.

If you are unable to make your own decisions about medical care, decisions will have to be made for you. There may be difficult questions: for instance, would you refuse treatment if you were unconscious and not likely to wake up? Would you refuse treatment if you were going to die soon no matter what? Would you want to receive any treatment your caregivers recommend?

While you are competent you can name someone to make medical treatment decisions for you, your patient advocate. This person, perhaps an adult child or close friend, can communicate your wishes when you can't.

Mercy Hospital has an informative brochure outlining the details of the durable power of attorney for health care, or your advance directive. If you would like a copy, call the office at 348-0368. Then you can review, in greater detail, the importance of this new legislation. Then you can spare your family and friends the pain of making decisions for you. Then you can rest in peace knowing your wishes will be carried out.

(Editor's Note: My friend died recently. She didn't have an advance directive, and ultimately it did complicate her medical treatment decision-making. Issues arose between family members. Her death has energized us all to make our advance directive and name a patient advocate.)

Church Directory

"Here I sit...all alone."
"Sure I'm a little worn, but who wouldn't be? My master read his morning paper here each day at sunrise. My mistress crooned lullabies to her infants while cradled in my arms. And the children...it doesn't seem so long ago that they jumped in my lap and crawled on my back...whenever they got the chance."

"Now they're all gone...moving to a finer home. They only took the new furniture. They left me."
Some of us may consider forsaking the revered and trusted to search for novel methods for coping and for finding contentment. We need not. God is faithfully waiting to give our spirit rest and to hold us in His loving arms.

There is a special place for you in God's house...and as you leave, God says, "Take Me with you."

Bits of Talk

by Fay Bovee

Peter Smith of Saugerties, New York, is spending two weeks visiting his grandparents, Bob and Fay Bovee. Betty and Jess Bennett of the Manistee River have been busy with company for the past two weeks. Up for the Milltown Festival were their friends, Harry and Dee Melia, from Homasassa, Florida. Dee and Harry have been helping out with the parade for the past three years. They stayed a week and made trips to Traverse City, Petoskey, Charlevoix, and Harbor Springs. Saturday, August 1, Betty joined the rest of her family in the Detroit area to see former resident and her granddaughter, Stephanie Hindmarsh, in the 1960's Rock Musical "Hair" put on by the Dearborn Players. The following week, grandson Russell Dugan arrived from Grand Junction, Colorado, to spend the week. Russell was joined by his brother, Gary, from Haslett, and Mike Bennett and another grandson, Chip from Roseville for the weekend. Gary returned home while Russell went back to Detroit to visit his other relatives, Jini and Wayne Hindmarsh and Ryan. He returned to Colorado on Thursday.

Cultural Events Program

The Crawford AuSable Community Education Cultural Events Series for area residents is in its 4th season of presenting musical talent from across the state of Michigan. This year, 13 programs have been contracted for your enjoyment. For 1992-93, we are pleased to offer three distinct series: The Travel & Adventure Series, celebrating its 20th season; the Learning Through Music Series, featuring both band and vocal groups; and the Command Performance Series, featuring dinner shows.

Learning Through Music Series

This year, the Learning Through Music series is a blend of bands as well as vocal groups. That's right! We have combined the former command Performance Series with the Learning Through Music Series. For 1992-93, the new Learning Through Music Program will feature eight performances, ranging from the WMU Symphony to the MSU Glee Club. If you like Jazz, this season features that, too!

Command Performance Series

New this season, the Command Performance Series is a dinner/variety show format featuring vocal and band performances. Designed to appeal to those who enjoy fine dining accompanied by a show, this year's series will feature the Meadowbrook Estate, New Reformation Dixieland Band, Michigan Opera Theatre Broadway Revue, and the Interlakes Chorus Barbershop Revue. The dining experience for each show is related to the performance. For example, the New Reformation Dixieland Band will feature a Louisiana Buffet. Last season, more than 275 people attended the Ritz Revue. This series is the result of that turnout. All performances will be held at the Grayling Holiday Inn Evergreen Room.

This series allows the individual to enjoy visiting many parts of the world from the comfort of the theatre seat. Whether you plan to visit some of these countries and would like to return, the Travelogues are full of information as well as entertaining. To celebrate the start of the 20th season of Travel & Adventure, join us September 17th.
